About Los Angeles County Affordable Housing Solutions Agency

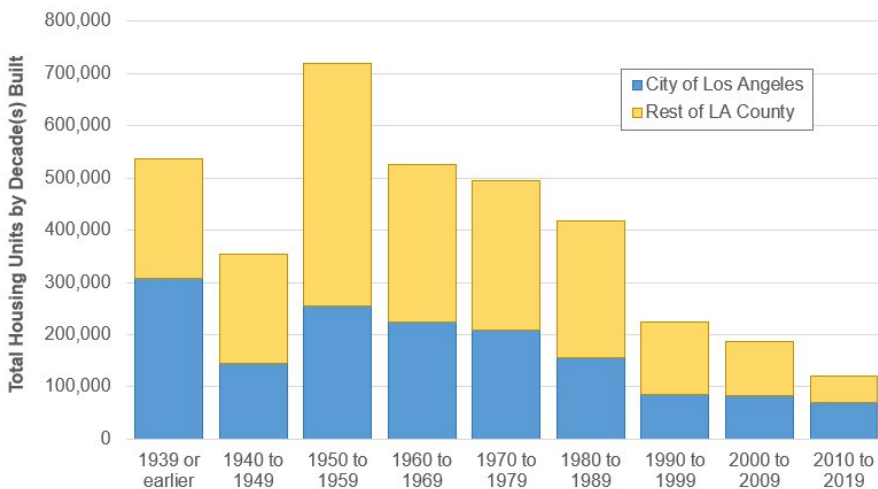

Born out of the fundamental belief that housing is a human right, the Los Angeles County Affordable Housing Solutions Agency (LACAHS) was created to enact and sustain policies and practices that uplift ALL communities. A regional organization focused on all of Los Angeles County regardless of age, race, class, disability, and gender, LACAHS was created to make housing more affordable, help people stay in their homes, and increase housing options for people experiencing homelessness. It is a solution, to create housing solutions.

Los Angeles County, the largest county in the United States, is facing the most significant housing crisis in the region's history. Hundreds of thousands of residents experience housing instability and are at risk of homelessness. They are being pushed out of their communities, often where their families have lived for decades. Los Angeles County's affordable housing crisis is both urgent and expansive. The need for affordable and stable housing impacts the 10 million residents across the County's 88 cities and unincorporated areas, and the crisis can only be solved by the entire County coming together to invest in proven solutions. To sufficiently address the housing crisis, affordable housing must be developed not only in low-income communities that have historically been disinvested in, but also in high resource neighborhoods that have historically practiced exclusionary zoning.

A coalition of elected leaders, community organizations, and housing and homelessness experts partnered with multiple stakeholders to pass Senate Bill \(SB\) 679, which was signed by Governor Gavin Newsom and officially created LACAHS in 2023. Operating as an independent government agency that has jurisdiction within the Los Angeles County, it is governed by a board of 22 and is guided by a long-term vision to drive innovative solutions to ensure access to housing that all Angelenos can afford. Its multi-pronged purposes are to strengthen the tools to unlock investment to scale for housing production, preserve existing affordable housing, and prevent people from falling into homelessness.

About Los Angeles County Affordable Housing Solutions Agency

We can do more together than apart

The theory of change that inspires LACAHS is clear: we can do more together than apart. Bringing an unprecedented regional approach to solving the crisis, the LACAHS Board is comprised of all five County Supervisors, the Mayors of Los Angeles and Long Beach, elected representatives from other regional sectors, and expert representatives on key housing issues. To cut through bureaucratic red tape to accomplish more than ever before, LACAHS is also empowered by its legislation to enable innovative financial tools and development strategies that will produce and stabilize affordable housing at the scale required to truly move the needle at the regional level. This means breaking down silos between the 88 cities and structurally mandating coordination and collaboration, because housing should be treated as essential countywide infrastructure instead of a local concern.

While the passage of SB679 opens a door to change, there is an immense amount of work to ensure the agency is stood up and implemented in a way that aligns with the goals of ground-level housing leaders, the community, and those most impacted by unaffordable housing. A multi-pronged and coordinated approach is the preferred path to find long-term solutions to the affordable housing crisis facing Los Angeles County. Leadership envisions an approach implemented with sufficient capacity and infrastructure to implement change at scale. With a countywide lens that has not previously existed, LACAHS will drive forward a comprehensive approach to the 3 Ps of affordable housing: protect tenants; preserve affordable housing; and produce new affordable housing.

The Opportunity: Interim Chief Executive Officer

LACAHSAs seeks a strategic interim leader to manage and administer the startup activities for the Agency. The interim leader will work to create the infrastructure, plan, organize, coordinate, and evaluate early stage work to date, for approximately a one year effort. The Interim CEO will work with the Board and various subcommittees to advance policies and procedures that will form the basis of operations starting in December 2024/early 2025. The primary goal of the entire initiative is to create an agency that works to reduce regulatory burden and ensures solutions to affordable housing throughout Los Angeles County while maintaining full transparency. Reporting directly to the LACAHSAs Board, the Interim CEO will lead LACAHSAs until a Permanent CEO is hired (anticipated in/around the first quarter of 2025). The Interim CEO will work with LACAHSAs leadership to explore various means of garnering resources to fund its future, including, but not limited to public support through tax instruments, public grants, private grants, philanthropic support and for the longer-term, possible earned revenue streams. Early stage funding has been provided by nonprofit partners. The origin of LACAHSAs is in California State Bill 679.

Don't check off every box in the requirements listed above? Please consider applying anyway! Studies have shown that underrepresented communities — such as women, people of color, LGBTQ, people with disabilities, those with lived experience in the mission area, and immigrants — are less likely to apply to jobs unless they meet every single qualification. LACAHS is dedicated to building an inclusive, diverse, equitable, and accessible workplace that fosters a sense of belonging — so if you're excited about this role but your past experience doesn't align perfectly with every qualification in the job description, we encourage you to still consider submitting an application.
